Philadelphia Inquirer Announces Men's At-Large Academic All-Area Team; Penn's Andrew Douglas and Drexel's Ebed Jarrell Named Co-Performers of the Year

PHILADELPHIA – Penn's Andrew Douglas (squash) and Drexel's Ebed Jarrell (wrestling) lead the 2019-20 Philadelphia Inquirer Academic All-Area Men's At-Large Team as the co-Performers of the Year, which was voted on by the area's Sports Information Directors.

Douglas plays in the number one spot for the Quakers and was named a first-team College Squash Association (CSA) All-American. The three-time first-team All-Ivy selection picks up his first Academic All-Area nod.

Jarrell was an at-large selection for the 2020 NCAA Wrestling Championships after going 18-7 overall including 10-3 in dual competition and 5-0 in EIWA action. This is Jarrell's third straight Academic All-Area selection.

Douglas is joined by three fellow Quakers to give Penn a team-high four members on the 2019-20 Philadelphia Inquirer Academic All-Area team in the men's at-large category. Adam Green (fencing), Aaron Johnson (sprint football), and Xiteng "Steven" Lin (fencing) join the co-Performer of the Year.

Haverford also boasts a multi-member platform with Nicholas Conroy (fencing), Kadan Lottick (fencing), and Daniel Van Beveren (cricket) all joining the at-large cohort.

La Salle's Daniel Domotor (water polo) and Chestnut Hill's Michael Martino (sprint football) round out the 10-man squad.
