

St. Francis College Brooklyn (19-9, 6-4 NWPC) faced Brown University (17-12 W, 10-7 W), Harvard University (18-9 L, 15-11 L), the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (23-10 W, 20-10 W), Princeton University (11-9 L, 11-8 L) and Iona University (17-13 W, 19-8 W) in Northeast Water Polo Conference (NWPC) competition this year...The 2005 (vs. the United States Naval Academy), 2010 (vs. Navy), 2012 (vs. Bucknell University) and 2013 (vs. Princeton University) Collegiate Water Polo Association (CWPA) Champion, the Terriers also posted runner-up finishes in 1999 (vs. the University of Massachusetts), 2000 (vs. Navy), 2004 (vs. Princeton) and 2007 (vs. Navy)...If the Terriers make it to the championship title game, hold on tight as close games are the squad's modus operandi with previous nail-biting title berths in 1999

(11-10 L vs. University of Massachusetts), 2000 (13-12 L OT SD vs. Navy at Brown), 2004 (3-2 OT SD L vs. Princeton at Bucknell), 2005 (10-9 W vs. Navy at Harvard), 2007 (11-7 L vs. Navy at Harvard), 2010 (8-4 W vs. Navy at Bucknell) and 2013 (11-9 W vs. Princeton at Bucknell)...In the inaugural NWPC Championship at Princeton in 2016, St. Francis Brooklyn downed Iona (13-2 W) prior to falling against both Brown (9-4 L) and Princeton (18-13 L) to finish in Fourth Place...In 2017, the Terriers fell to host/eventual champion Harvard (9-7 L) before dropping a game to Brown (11-9 L) to again place fourth...At Brown in 2018, the Terriers fell to Princeton (9-7 L) and stopped Brown (13-9 W) in the Third Place game...In 2019 at MIT, St. Francis Brooklyn handled the host Engineers (18-8 W), fell to Harvard (15-9 L) and took a setback versus Brown (19-18 L OT SD) to finish in Fourth Place...Last year at Princeton, the team turned back MIT (12-5 W), and edged Harvard (11-10 W) before dropping a 9-6 title game against the host Tigers...St. Francis has a chance to achieve a feat never accomplished on the East Coast—have four head coaches win championships if Ilija Duretic can lead the team to this year's title...The 2005 title belongs to Carl Quigley, while the 2010 and 2012 crowns were claimed by Igor Samardzija...In 2013, Srdjan Mihaljevic took over for Samardzija and posted the Terriers' most recent title and National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Championship tournament berth.

A five-time Collegiate Water Polo Association (CWPA)/ Eastern Champion (1981, 1983-85, 2014) and six-time runner-up (1978, 1982, 1986, 1987, 1989, 1990) prior to the formation of the Northeast Water Polo Conference (NWPC), the Bears of Brown University (15-14, 4-6 NWPC) are host of the 2022 NWPC Championship due to Harvard University—the scheduled host—serving as the site of the annual football meeting between Harvard-Yale University in Cambridge...The Bears went 4-6 in league competition this year against St. Francis College Brooklyn (17-12 L, 10-7 L), Princeton University (14-8 L, 9-8 L), Harvard University (15-10 L, 10-8 L), Iona University (12-9 W, 12-8 W) and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (16-9 W, 17-11 W). Brown did not play Connecticut College in league competition, but did pickup a win versus the Camels (18-9 W) and another victory over MIT (15-10 W) in non-conference action to rate at 6-6 against NWPC institutions in 2022...The 2016 NWPC Championship runner-up as Brown fell by an 11-7 score to Harvard at Princeton, the team placed Third in 2017 at Harvard following an 11-9 overtime loss to Princeton in the semifinals and an 11-9 defeat of St. Francis College Brooklyn in the Third Place tilt...In 2018 at home in Rhode Island, the Bears finished in Fourth Place as the team topped MIT (8-7 W) prior to suffering setbacks against Harvard (11-10 L) and St. Francis Brooklyn (13-9 L)...In 2019 at MIT, Brown defeated Iona (13-11 W) and fell to Princeton (16-10 L) before upending St. Francis Brooklyn (19-18 W OT SD) in the Third Place game...Due to COVID-19, the Bears did not compete during the 2020/Winter 2021 season...Last year at Princeton, Brown topped Iona (14-11 W) and dropped a contest to the host Tigers (14-9 L) prior to handling Harvard (15-13 W) in the Third Place game...Brown is next slated to host the NWPC Championship in 2027 as Harvard (2023) assumes the Bears' hosting rights next season following this year's trade before MIT (2024), Princeton (2025) and Harvard (2026) take on the role of host.

The Engineers of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (6-17, 1-10 NWPC) already have a postseason berth in the bag as the team defeated Austin College (14-10 W) and fell to Johns Hopkins University (12-11 L) at the Hallman Aquatics Center in Erie, Pa., to punch the program's return ticket to the 2022 USA Water Polo Division III National Championship...Against league foes, MIT faced Brown University (15-10 L, 16-9 L, 17-11 L, Princeton University (18-9 L, 22-5 L), Iona University (15-10 L, 13-11 L), St. Francis College Brooklyn (23-10 L, 20-10 L), Harvard University (21-11 L, 18-10 L) and Connecticut College (12-4 W). The 15-10 loss to Brown was a non-conference meeting... At the NWPC Championship, MIT has never finished higher than Fifth Place in part due to Iona...In 2016 at Princeton, the Engineers fell to Harvard (14-8 L) prior to taking a 9-8 sudden death overtime loss to Iona in the Fifth Place game...In 2017 at Harvard, MIT slipped versus Brown (9-4 L) and suffered a loss to Iona (10-9 L OT) to finish sixth...At the 2018 championship hosted by Brown, the host Bears engineered an 8-7 defeat of MIT before the Engineers felled Iona (16-11 W) to take Fifth Place...In 2019, host MIT dropped a 10-8 game to St. Francis Brooklyn before upending Iona by a 16-6 count to claim Fifth Place in Cambridge...Last year at Princeton, MIT lost to St. Francis Brooklyn (12-5 L) before defeating Connecticut College (10-3 W) and slipping versus Iona (11-7 L) to take Sixth Place...An 11-time CWPA/Eastern Championship qualifier, MIT placed 10th (2014), Eighth (2004, 2012), Seventh (2006, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2013, 2015) and Sixth (2003, 2010) prior to the creation of the NWPC and Mid-Atlantic Water Polo Conferences (MAWPC) prior to the 2016 season.

The Collegiate Water Polo Association (CWPA)/NWPC staff and officials would like to thank the Brown University staff for their hospitality and cooperation in hosting the 2022 Northeast Water Polo Conference Championship this weekend.

Connecticut College (3-13, 0-4 NWPC) previously faced Iona University (16-4 L), the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (12-4 L), Harvard University (20-6 L), Iona University (16-8 L) and Brown University (18-9 L) during the regular season as the Camels compete in a limited Northeast Water Polo Conference (NWPC) schedule with the understanding the team receives the final spot in the NWPC Championship field...This marks Connecticut's second appearance at an NWPC Championship as the team previously competed in the former Mid-Atlantic Water Polo Conference (MAWPC)-West Region from 2016-to-2019...Last year at Princeton University, the Camels fell to Harvard (21-10 L), Iona University (15-7 L) and MIT (10-3 L) to finish in Seventh Place...As a member of the MAWPC-West, Connecticut defeated La Salle University (19-9 W) and Salem University (19-15 W) prior to falling to Mercyhurst University (11-8 L) in the inaugural/2016 MAWPC-West Championship title game at the Hallman Aquatics Center in Erie...At the 2016 MAWPC Championship hosted by Bucknell University, Connecticut fell to Bucknell University (24-4 L), Wagner College (18-6 L) and Mercyhurst (15-11 L) to place Eighth...At the 2018 MAWPC-West Championship hosted at Hallman, Connecticut fell to La Salle (13-11 L) and defeated Washington & Jefferson College (19-10 W) before suffering a 7-6 loss to McKendree University in the Fifth Place game...In 2018 at Hallman, Connecticut dropped a 13-7 game to Mercyhurst, topped Monmouth College (16-4 L) and edged Washington & Jefferson College (14-13 W OT) to claim Fifth Place...Connecticut finished in sixth place at the 2019 MAWPC-West Championship hosted at Hallman as the Camels fell to Mercyhurst (14-12 L), defeated Monmouth (17-8 W) and slipped versus Washington & Jefferson (9-8 L)...Connecticut College head coach Matt Anderson will aim for his seventh postseason championship in an East Coast league (Collegiate Water Polo Association, MAWPC, NWPC) as he previously won four CWPA Women's Championships (2005, 2008, 2009, 2010) at the University of Michigan prior to leading the Camels' to the 2015 and 2016 CWPA Women's Division III Championships...Anderson is one of four coaches in the championship with prior post-season championships as he joins Princeton University's Dustin Litvak, Harvard's Ted Minnis and Brown's Felix Mercado...The NWPC Championship marks the second championship tournament for Connecticut this year as the team finished in Sixth Place at the Division III Eastern Championship hosted by Penn State Behrend at the Hallman Aquatics Center. The Camels fell to Augustana College (20-9 L), defeated Penn State Behrend (18-12 W) and lost to Washington & Jefferson (18-6 L) in a trio of contests against Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) affiliated institutions.

The Crimson of Harvard University (19-8, 9-2 NWPC) will be on the road this year thanks to Yale University. The Crimson were slated to host the 2022 Northeast Water Polo Conference (NWPC) Championship, but Harvard hosting the institutions' annual football game against Yale forced the school to trade 2022 and 2023 NWPC Championship hosting rights with Brown University...Harvard faced Iona University (17-11 W, 15-9 W), St. Francis Brooklyn (18-9 W, 15-10 W), Princeton University (9-6 L, 10-7 L), Brown (15-10 W, 10-8 W), the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (21-11 W, 18-10 W) and Connecticut College (20-6 W) during the NWPC regular season...The 2016, 2017 and 2019 NWPC Champions, the Crimson will aim to get back to the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Championship in 2022...In 2016, the Crimson downed the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) (14-8 W), upended host Princeton University (14-13 W) and bested Brown University (11-7 W) at DeNunzio Pool in Princeton, N.J. to claim the inaugural NWPC Championship on the way to a Fourth Place finish at the 2016 NCAA Championship...Harvard had never won a league championship and previously advanced to a league title tilt just once since records were first kept in 1972...In 1972, the Crimson reached the Eastern Championship (which later became the Collegiate Water Polo Association (CWPA) Championship), but fell to longtime Ivy League archrival Yale University...It marked the first of two consecutive league crowns for Yale...In 2017 at home in Blodgett Pool, Harvard downed Iona College (16-7 W), St. Francis College Brooklyn (9-7 W) and Princeton (12-11 SD OT W) to claim the program's second consecutive league title and NCAA berth...In 2018 at Brown, Harvard won the regular season title, but missed out on becoming the first Ivy League institution to claim three consecutive league titles in men's water polo since Brown achieved the feat from 1983-to-1985. The Crimson defeated the host Bears (11-10 W), but suffered a 12-10 setback in the title game against Princeton...In 2019, Harvard topped St. Francis Brooklyn (15-9 W) and Princeton (8-7 W) at MIT in Cambridge, Mass., to win the program's third NWPC crown...After missing the 2020/Winter 2021 season due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Harvard placed Fourth last year at Princeton by topping Connecticut College (21-10 W) before dropping games to St. Francis Brooklyn (11-10 L) and Brown (15-13 L).

The Gaels of Iona University (10-17, 4-8 NWPC) have previously faced Harvard University (17-11 L, 15-9 L), the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (15-10 W, 13-11 W), Brown University (12-9 L, 12-8 L), Connecticut College (16-4 W, 16-8 W), St. Francis College Brooklyn (17-13 L, 19-8 L) and Princeton University (10-7 L, 14-5 L) this year...Iona will seek to achieve a mark the men's program has never previously accomplished by reaching the title game of a water polo league championship tournament...The Gaels are the only program at the NWPC Championship to never play in a championship (Division II, Division III, Eastern Championship, Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC), Collegiate Water Polo Association (CWPA), etc.) title game...In the history of the NWPC Championship, the Gaels have consistently finished in the middle of the pack...In 2016 at the inaugural NWPC Championship hosted by Princeton, the Gaels fell to St. Francis Brooklyn (13-2 L) and topped MIT in sudden death overtime (9-8 W) in the Fifth Place game...In 2017 at Harvard, Iona fell to the host Crimson (16-7 L) and again felled MIT (10-9 OT W) in overtime for Fifth Place...In 2018 at Brown, Iona fell to Princeton (16-7 L) and MIT (8-7 L) to garner a Sixth Place finish...In 2019 at MIT, Iona slipped versus Brown (13-11 L) and MIT (16-6 L) to claim another Sixth Place finish...During the 2020/Winter 2021 season, Iona competed in the Mid-Atlantic Water Polo Conference (MAWPC) with three games versus the United States Naval Academy (19-6 L) and La Salle University (19-15 L, 15-11 L)...Last year at Princeton, the Gaels fell to Brown (14-11 L), clipped Connecticut College (15-7 W) and outsmarted MIT (11-7 W) to claim Fifth Place...The New York metro area has a history of league championship titles as St. Francis College Brooklyn (2005, 2010, 2012, 2013) and former varsity program Queens College (1997, 2002) previously captured CWPA/Eastern Championships. More recently, Fordham University took home the 2021 Mid-Atlantic Water Polo Conference (MAWPC) crown.
